

THE ANDRÓNICO LUKSIC FELLOWSHIPS FOR CHILE

THE ANDRÓNICO LUKSIC FELLOWSHIPS were established to support educational opportunities for Chilean citizens at Harvard University. The new Luksic Fellowships, based at Harvard Kennedy School, will strengthen governance and improve policymaking in Chile by preparing established and emerging leaders through participation in the rigorous HKS master's degree programs. These programs reflect the Kennedy School's mission of educating skilled, enlightened leaders and advancing solutions to public problems through world-class scholarship and active engagement with practitioners and decision-makers.

TO APPLY

→ Qualified candidates will be Chilean citizens with demonstrable experience working in the nation's public good, specifically in areas related to governance and public policy. The Luksic Fellowships will be awarded based on demonstrated financial need up to the amount required for financial certification for international students.

→ Fellowships will be awarded for the following degree programs at Harvard Kennedy School:

- ▶ Mid-Career Master in Public Administration /Mason Program (one year)
- ▶ Master in Public Policy (two years)
- ▶ Master in Public Administration (two years)
- ▶ Master in Public Administration in International Development (two years)

→ Candidates will be required to meet all admission criteria for the Kennedy School and will be admitted through the standard admissions process for their chosen degree program.

- ▶ Applications for the 2013–2014 academic year will be available online by September 2012; deadline is December 7, 2012.
- ▶ Visit: www.hks.harvard.edu/degrees/admissions/apply

“

Chile has made remarkable progress in recent years and the future holds great promise. These fellowships are designed to link the Kennedy School and Harvard University with Chile's continuing evolution in an enduring and mutually beneficial partnership. We are deeply grateful for the enormous generosity of the Luksic family in establishing these fellowships, which will enable Chileans to engage in innovative approaches to governance with peers and experts from around the world, while fostering greater understanding of the Chilean experience and its importance to the development of Latin American civil society among members of our scholarly community.

”

•• DAVID T. ELLWOOD, DEAN
Scott M. Black Professor of Political Economy, Harvard Kennedy School

CONTACTS

- Paulina Gonzalez-Pose | Director, Edward S. Mason Program | paulina_gonzalez-pose@harvard.edu
- Stephanie Stretetz | Director, Student Financial Services | stephanie_stretetz@harvard.edu
- Ned Strong | Director, David Rockefeller Center for Latin American Studies, Regional Office (Santiago, Chile) | ned_strong@harvard.edu | www.drclas.harvard.edu/regional_office